

WAR NECESSITIES

GIFFORD PINCHOT ON NATIONAL RESOURCES—WHAT HE OMITS TO MENTION

In Wednesday's issue of the Glendale News appeared a portion of Gifford Pinchot's letter pertaining to the conservation of our national power resources which, "whether from coal, oil or waterpower, are national war necessities." "We need them to win the war," he says, and calls attention to the struggle the friends of conservation of public water power have had with "a little group of waterpower magnates and their friends in Congress who have blocked all legislation which would not give them these valuable properties forever and for nothing. Today when the nation needs all its resources, the same men who have been blocking reasonable waterpower legislation, own and are holding millions of water horse-power undeveloped and out of use while clamoring for more. * * Waterpower belongs to the people. The sites where it is produced should always be held in public hands, for only so can effective control in the general interest be secured."

The other two sources of horsepower Mr. Pinchot merely mentions. He knows that as something to "conserve" for public use, for war necessities they are past praying for. You cannot "conserve" by locking the barn door after your horse has already been stolen. He knows that coal and oil have already passed successfully through the stage at which waterpower is now arrived—that of getting to the hands of a small group of magnates who are holding them (partially) undeveloped and out of use while they would be "clamoring for more" if there were any left.

So Mr. Pinchot urges the conservation of all the power sources there are to conserve. But if "waterpower belongs to the people;" if "the sites where it is produced should always be held in public hands," how about coal and oil the other two sources of power? They must similarly belong to the people. Had Congress ever a right to turn over public domain containing two elements of such vital necessity for war emergencies?

In small affairs, a man who turns over to another property that does not belong to him, is a criminal, and the real owner needs but to prove his claim to have restoration made. So if coal and oil lands like waterpower sites, belong to the people now, they belonged to them when they were turned over to the Standard Oil and other magnates years ago. And as they are needed to win the war, they should be conscripted by the government now.

But are these sources of horsepower any greater war necessity than food? And is not the grabbing of the best and most accessible farm lands by a small group of magnates who are holding millions today practically out of use crippling our war resources as much as the holding on to the waterpower sites? As food is the great need in order to win the war, why not conscript the idle acres of farm land all over the country?

And to come closer home, in California is to do her utmost in food production, why not open up the undeveloped and unused lands of the state?

You cannot conserve what is not produced. Economy alone is insufficient. We must increase the supply by opening up the land for users. Our worthy townsman who is tackling the "Back to the land" problem will need to get down to the bottom of the problem and work for a law that will offer the premium to the one who uses land while discouraging the one who holds land out of use. And if this be good as a war measure, is it not equally good for all the time.

The campaign for the single tax, to open up the land for use at once is the only proposal or campaign in the country at present that means real "Back to the land." Sign the petitions to put this bill on the ballot by December 31st.

FRUIT FOR CHARITY

The ladies of the Philanthropic section of the Tuesday Afternoon club have been collecting canned fruit and jelly for the Maternity Hospital, Kings Daughters Day Nursery, and other institutions in which the club is interested. Members of the section will be in the cloak room at the club rooms again Tuesday afternoon to exchange empty jars and glasses for those filled with fruit. Ladies who intended to bring their contributions at the last meeting, but who forgot, are thus given another opportunity.

COMPANY 9 COMING

GLENDALE BOYS OF THE COAST ARTILLERY TO BE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED

The boys of Company 9, C. A. C., who are coming to Glendale in a body on Thanksgiving are certain of having a glorious day. From the time of the early noon turkey dinner at camp until the festivities end far into the night these boys are to be given a Thanksgiving they will remember through many a long day at the far front, and which they can take with them as one of their bright memories of home. Glendale friends are busy with preparations and the only link still incomplete in the chain of happy plans is the one of their initial reception when they alight from the cars. There are 110 of these boys, a large percentage of whom are from Glendale. It is hoped that a complete list may be published early in the week. Certainly they should be greeted on their first appearance with as demonstrative a welcome as can be arranged. They will probably march directly to the High School grounds, attended by the greater proportion of the community from the present outlook, where they will give an exhibition drill. The game between the football team of the G. U. H. S. and a team from Company 9, formed mostly of Glendale boys, will be the main event of the afternoon. Afterwards the heroes of camp and gridiron will scatter for the time being to be feted and dined in their various homes. Many will doubtless have their dinners in Los Angeles at their own homes or with friends. Later there will be a big benefit dance at the Masonic Hall, the use of which has been donated for the occasion by the Masonic Building Association. An active committee of friends of the boys is at work and sparing no trouble to make this event a great success. The proceeds are to be spent to defray the expenses of the boys for the day, street car fare alone amounting to 80 cents for each of the 110 men. Any amount which may be cleared in excess of the sum required for such expenses will be put in the company mess fund. Certain it is, no matter how world events may transpire, that Glendale will never again have just this same opportunity of officially doing homage to these boys in this way. Very probably it will be "farewell" to them as a group and will surely be a splendid chance to bid them "Godspeed" on the journey that seems inevitably before them. Every individual in Glendale should have a share in making it a memorable occasion.

HOLD JOINT MEETING

On Friday a joint meeting was held at the G. A. R. hall of the N. P. Banks Post and the Women's Relief Corps. The business meeting of the G. A. R. was held as usual in the morning, followed by a bountiful lunch served by the ladies of the W. R. C. and enjoyed by about 125 members. Immediately afterwards a most pleasing program was given, opening with a piano solo by Miss Gertrude Champlain, greatly appreciated by her audience. Several excellent readings were given by Mrs. E. D. Moore and then the W. R. C. president called on Rev. C. R. Norton for his usual part of the program which consists of wedding and birthday services for those whose anniversaries have fallen within the current month. There was a song by Mr. Booth, and Comrade Clark addressed the company on timely war topics comparing modern warfare with that employed in the Civil war days. Mrs. Rule D. Meeke gave several of her delightful readings which invariably call for repeated encores and the program closed with the singing of "America" by all. The business session of the W. R. C. was held later in the afternoon.

H. M. OVERTON HERE

Mr. H. M. Overton of the Yucaipa valley is in Glendale on a short business trip, having arrived on Thursday and expecting to leave on Sunday. He is looking after the ranch interests of his mother, Mrs. Mollie Overton, at her place, 226 Verdugo road, as she is making an extended visit at his home in Yucaipa. Mr. Overton reports a wonderfully fine apple show this season in the valley, held the first four days of the month, though he was himself unable to put in an exhibit. Last year Mr. Overton won several prizes with his fine apples, among which was first prize for Winesaps, which are evidently keeping up their standard of excellence, judging from the samples he brought with him.

HAIG MAKES FURTHER ADVANCE ON CAMBRAI

TEUTONS RUSH MASSED TROOPS AND FIELD GUNS IN EFFORT TO SAVE BESIEGED KEY CITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, November 24.—Further gains around Cambrai were reported by Field Marshal Haig today. Haig announced successful operations in the drive toward the city.

The British have fought their way back within two miles of Cambrai. The Germans were hurled back upon Fontaine Notre Dame and that town is in flames. The Teutons are falling back in disorder upon Provill, a suburb of Cambrai. Fontaine Notre Dame has been evacuated and is now "No Man's Land." Fighting is raging all along that section of the line.

Germany is rushing massed troops to Cambrai to save the city. Hurried defenses have been thrown up and the city is fairly bristling with massed field guns.

Germany does not propose to surrender this key without a vicious struggle.

O. E. S. INITIATION

WORTHY MATRON, MRS. BEAMON GIVES REPORT OF GRAND CHAPTER

Glen Eyrie Chapter O. E. S. held its last initiatory services under the present corps of officers Thursday evening, November 22, at Masonic Hall.

There was an unusually large attendance testifying to the esteem in which the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Beamon is held by her members. A very sweet tribute was paid to Mrs. Beamon by Mrs. Kimberley, one of her members who has been ill a long time and could not attend the chapter at its last meeting, but who sent a corsage bouquet of orchids and maiden-hair fern as a token of her appreciation of the Worthy Matron.

Mrs. J. Walter Elliott was initiated into the order and the following accepted as affiliates: Mr. and Mrs. James Watts, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Smith and Dr. Anna Josselyn.

Mrs. Beamon read her report of the Grand Chapter session held Oct. 16 to 19, 1917, at Oakland, Cal., to which she was sent as a delegate. Her report was complete, embodying all the important transactions and was presented in a most pleasing manner.

ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH

On Thursday evening a completely successful surprise was given by Mrs. C. R. Hallett at her home, 1015 Maple street in honor of Mr. Hallett's birthday. Upon his arrival from his work in the city he found his home dark, but as he stepped into the living room a sudden flood of light revealed the assembled guests who greeted him with "Happy birthday's" from all sides. The astonished host and his guests were then led to the beautifully decorated dining room where covers were laid for eleven, at a table lovely with flowers and autumn leaves. A crystal basket of pink chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece and the gaily tinted leaves decked the white cloth. At the end of the delicious dinner a beautiful birthday cake was brought in with lighted candles while the lights were again turned low. Those present besides the host and hostess were: Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Isitt, Mr. and Mrs. George Bannock and Miss Iris Bannock, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Crampton and Miss Grace Crampton and Miss Eulalie Hildreth.

YULETIDE ENTERTAINMENT

The benefit performance at the Palace Grand theater on Friday evening, was undoubtedly a success despite an impromptu change of program including the fortunate substitution of a first run picture straight from New York, which has as yet not been shown in Los Angeles, instead of the one advertised which had been by some mistake sent to San Diego. Francis Henry's clever imitation of the famous Scotch comedian, Harry Lauder, came up to specifications in every respect, and the audience showed marked evidence of enthusiastic approval. The committees are as yet unable to make any definite statements as to the financial outcome, but the number of tickets sold indicate a gratifying profit. Mr. Mitchell, the chairman of the committee announced from the platform at the second performance that the sum netted would probably reach $500. With most commendable generosity, Mr. Jensen has offered to give the profits of the performance to the cause of the Yuletide committee, and deserves the unstinted praise accorded him by that organization. A full account of the sum raised will be given later.

BIRTHDAY EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Crampton, Miss Grace Crampton and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Isitt attended the birthday party given in honor of their aunt, Mrs. Melissa Simons, at the beautiful home of her son, Mr. Walter R. Simons, in Pasadena, last night. There were 50 guests present to do homage to the dear old lady who never grows old, though her years now number 80. She is an ardent worker for the Red Cross, and many wonderful things are made by her deft fingers. Abundance of bright red holly berries were used in the decorations. Music, vocal and instrumental furnished entertainment for the guests the first part of the evening. Later a delicious three-course luncheon was served on small tables, at the conclusion of which a huge birthday cake, covered with tiny candles, was placed on the table of the honored guest. The favors were mounted pictures of Mrs. Simons, inscribed "80 years young." At the conclusion of the refreshment course, the guests returned to the spacious living room, where dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

SANTA CLARA MEETS STANFORD AT RUGBY TODAY—OCCIDENTAL AT POMONA

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Santa Clara matched strength at Rugby today with Stanford university. Weeks of preliminaries all have led to this—the big game beyond a doubt, for Santa Clara, and, since the break in relations with California, Stanford's supreme conflict. The middle of the week training was tapered off and a fit bunch of ruggers loped onto the field here this afternoon. Stanford has been indulging in some Gil Dobie stuff—camouflaging under a cloak of gloom. For the two weeks preceding the game, nothing has been quite right at Stanford. No, it has been sad indeed. But most everywhere this gloom has been considered the bunk. Santa Clara has been featured by pep in its closing days of training. It has seemed pretty nearly a certainty that the team which has represented Santa Clara the greater part of the season would be on the field today, but the coaches had a likely squad and allowed no one to think he had a cinch on the job.

Christmas packages for Uncle Sam's troops in France are on their way. The country met the call for Christmas gifts with a hearty response. Now attention is being turned to the boys at home—those in the training camps awaiting their chance to go "over there." Will the people be as generous with them? Is the question asked. John L. Clymer, director of the Bureau of Development for Nevada, Arizona and California, said today that the total allotment for Christmas packages for United States troops at home is 1,800,000 and the quota for this division 70,000. Forty thousand packages for the division have been provided and 30,000 more are needed if every man in Uncle Sam's army in the division, including those on the Mexican border, is to have his visit from Santa Claus.

Substitutes for white flour have increased 50 per cent in number as a result of the food conservation campaign, in the last three weeks. That was the announcement today of Food Administrator Ralph P. Merritt, based on reports submitted to him by California flour manufacturers and dealers. Most of the substitutes are made from corn and rye. Grocers, the reports show, are carrying smaller flour stocks and urging the sale of the substitutes for wheat flour.

CLAREMONT, Cal., Nov. 24.—Pomona footballers met Occidental here today in the final game of the Southern California conference series.

OAKLAND, Nov. 24.—Whether a man can collect damages for being kept out of the National Army is the question which the Oakland courts have been called upon to decide. Walter H. Morse, aged 24, has filed the suit. He alleges he was riding in a taxicab and the machine was wrecked. Injuries sustained, he claims, resulted in the draft examiners rejecting him from the National army for physical disability. He has sued the taxicab company for $5000 damages. "I had my heart set on being drafted," he said. "It was an awful disappointment."

CHOIR MAKES MERRY

Mrs. Charles W. Burket entertained on Thursday evening at her home, 704 West Fifth street, the choir of the First Methodist church, following the regular weekly rehearsal at the church. The time was spent almost entirely with music which did not exclude the ever present knitting needles. The music for the Christmas oratorio was taken up and after some time spent in rehearsal, college songs and other well known tunes were sung to the enjoyment of all. Late in the evening the hostess served a delicious little supper which was near-Hoover in having no meat and almost no sugar. Shrimp salad with war as well as white bread sandwiches, coffee and home made cookies and other good things conserved the strength of the hard working guests.

LITERARY SECTION

The Literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met at the home of Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. As the secretary called the roll each member responded with apt quotations. Mrs. Goldthwaite gave a comprehensive review of "A Year With the Poets," and Mrs. Willisford read many stirring, sympathetic rhymes from Services' "Rhymes of a Red Cross Man."

The next meeting will be December 4th when the poets of California will be studied.

ENEMIES OF MANKIND

The discovery made by federal and police investigation in Chicago of 105 cars of potatoes, cabbages and onions rotting in the yards of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad should lead to the exemplary punishment of those who are responsible. All the cars were marked "hold", and one of them had remained unloaded since September. In some instances, it is stated, carloads of foodstuffs have been dumped from Northwestern cars near West Chicago. The Illinois State food administrator, H. H. Wheeler, is quoted as saying:

The deeper we go into this case the more serious it appears. We are going to trace every carload of food dumped out here. From the numbers we will ascertain their shippers, their consignees and their precise movements. If it is found there have been wilful delays by any persons in movement of these cars causing destruction of their loads, those guilty will be given the extreme penalty of the federal food laws.

To destroy food is always wicked. At the present time it is a crime against humanity. Not only waste but greedy consumption of food is condemned on the ground of patriotism and humanity. American agriculture long has been looked to as supplying a surplus beyond home requirements which may be depended upon to mitigate the evils of short food supplies across the Atlantic. In the present exigency of the war it is to the interest of the United States in a strategic way as well as for financial reasons to see to the provisioning of its allies. Destroying potatoes and cabbages will force Americans to the necessity of eating grain that otherwise might be spared for shipment. Whether due to alien enemy plotting or to wicked manipulation of American food exploiters maneuvering for higher prices, the sinister proceedings uncovered at Chicago call for exemplary punishment. Those who waste food at any time are open to condemnation. In the present war emergency they are enemies of mankind.—Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

WAR WORK AT NAVY YARDS

Nearly 55,000 appointments were made to the forces of mechanics, helpers, and laborers at navy yards and other establishments during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1917, and since that date appointments have been made in increased proportion.

An appropriation of $7,500,000 is now being expended in the enlargement of the great naval gun factory at Washington, which, when completed, will furnish employment for 4000 or more skilled mechanics, in addition to the 8000 already at work in the plant. In this mammoth factory, one of the best equipped and most interesting in the world, are built the great guns for our war vessels, which carry to every country America's ability to protect herself and to safeguard the rights of her citizens wherever they may be.

The new naval aircraft factory at Philadelphia, which will be completed this month, will also employ about 3000 men.

The workers who man such plants are of a superior class, and they feel a personal pride in turning out products that will stand the test of conflict with the arms of other nations. A considerable part of the building of war vessels is also done in government yards.

The United States Civil Service Commission, which is charged with the task of recruiting the ranks of this great civilian army, through its widespread organization, is furnishing the men as they are needed. In certain trades, particularly those connected with shipbuilding, there is usually a shortage. Sailmakers, coppersmiths, shipfitters, anglesmiths, blacksmiths and machinists are especially needed. Women to operate power sewing machines are also in great demand. The representatives of the Civil Service Commission at postoffices in all cities are the official recruiting agents for this as well as other branches of the civil service. The commission urges competent mechanics to offer their services to the government at this time of great need.

BELGIUM'S COAST LINE

Perhaps in no other war in modern history have a few miles counted for as much in the scales of victory as in the present contest in West Flanders. The distance which separates the allied forces from full control of the coast of Belgium is only 30 miles. Possession of these 30 miles of coast line would not only wipe out the German submarine bases in Belgium, but it would also give the allies a new front upon which to attack in an effort to drive the enemy out of Belgium and northern France. Possession of this coast, therefore, would be a double victory to the allies, sorely hampering the enemy's submarine operations, and at the same time affording an opportunity to roll up his right flank on land.

Should the allies get control of the coast of Belgium as far inland as Bruges they would come into possession of a splendid system of canals extending from France to Furnes, thence by way of Nieupoort to Ostend and Bruges. There is also a canal from Bruges to the coast near Blankenberghe, another to Ghent, and a third to the waterway connecting Fleyt with Ghent. A railroad parallels the coast, all the way from the French border to the Dutch frontier. West Flanders, where the English smash is now on, is generally flat and low, and in parts marshy. Under a system of intensive agriculture, the province was one of the most productive in Belgium in the years before the war and 40 per cent of the population was engaged in manufacturing, the principal industry being linen weaving and lace making. AVOID STRIKES IN WAR

Decision of the building trades council of the American Federation of Labor to call off all strikes involving construction of ships and other accessories for the government, and to refer all industrial differences to Washington for adjustment, gives hope that other great labor organizations, having in their hands vital activities of the nation, will be equally patriotic and considerate of the nation's war time needs.

President Wilson is particularly concerned over the possibility of a general railroad strike. The heads of the four great railway

GERMANS RE-WRITE MAIL OF ALSACE-LORRAINE SOLDIERS

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES,
Nov. 1. (By Mail)—Germany's domination of the inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine has now become so uncertain that they are no longer allowed to receive letters from the male members of the families serving on the various German fronts. This curious state of affairs has just been discovered by the finding of orders establishing the new system of government letter transmission for the two provinces.

Germany's precautions are presumably dictated by fear that the soldiers in her armies from Alsace and Lorraine, might communicate to their families military or other useful information, and that this in turn might be communicated by the inhabitants of the two provinces to the French across the border.

All letters from German soldiers of Alsatian or Lorraine origin must now pass through a newly created office at Stuttgart. There government employees make extracts of the letters, and it is these extracts that the families of the soldiers in Alsace-Lorraine eventually receive. The entire system is self-explained in the following "extract" that has just come into the hands of the French military authorities:

"Stuttgart, October 12, 1917. 'As recent measures prohibit the sending into the occupied portions of Upper Alsace and Lorraine letters coming from soldiers in the field, I am communicating you below the analysis of a letter from your husband, Monsieur Alphonse A., whose address we are holding here:

"I hope you are always in good health as I am, but recently I have only heard from you rarely, although I write you every two weeks.

"Is the harvest good at home this year? Here with us we have had nothing like it for the past 30 years. It will give us plenty to eat for a long time to come. Potatoes and fruits are both in most unusual quantities. I am eating enormous quantities of both, but naturally not to the point where it makes me sick as do others here who verily eat too much.

"I hope that in your prayers you will not forget me, as I do not forget you, so that when we meet again we can without fear look each other in the eyes to the depth of our souls."

brotherhoods have been summoned to the White House for conference. The President has high hopes that these influential unions will follow in the steps of the building trades council and relieve the national government from all tension over possibility of an attempted paralyzation of transportation facilities that would cripple, beyond measure, the war operations of the nation.

It is not a vindictive threat that President Wilson holds out, that drastic measures will be employed, if necessary, to keep railroads operating. The President is not given to taking out revenge upon any organization or interest. He is not hostile to labor. On the contrary, he has proven repeatedly that he is labor's sympathetic friend. But, in a broader sense, he must protect the interests of the nation as a whole, against anything that might be done by labor, or capital, or any interest or element. There is no reason to believe, however, that any labor organization will show any measure of disloyalty by fomenting unnecessary industrial strife.—Long Beach Press.

HUNKA TIN

(From the American Field Service Bulletin, Paris)

You may talk about your voitures
When you're sitting round the quarters,
But when it comes to getting blesses in,
Take a little tip from me,
Let those heavy motors be,
Pin your faith to Henry F.'s old Hunka Tin.
Give her essence and l'eau,
Crank her up and let her go,
You back firin', spark plug foul'in' Hunka Tin.

The paint is not so good,
And no doubt you'll find the hood
Will rattle like a boiler shop en route;
The cooler's sure to boil,
And perhaps she's leakin' oil,
Then oftentimes the horn declines to toot.
But when the night is black,
And there's blesses to take back,
And they hardly give you time to take a smoke,
It's mighty good to feel,
When you're sitting at the wheel,
She'll be running when the bigger cars are broke.

After all the wars are past,
And we're taken home at last,
To our reward of which the preacher sings,
When these ukulele sharps
Will be strumming golden harps,
And the aviators all have reg'lar wings,
When the Kaiser is in hell,
With the furnace drawing well,
Paying for his million different kinds of sin,
If they're running short of coal
Show me how to reach the hole,
And I'll cast a few loads down with Hunka Tin.

Yes, Tin, Tin, Tin,
You exasperating puzzle, Hunka Tin,
I've abused you and I've flayed you,
But, by Henry Ford who made you,
You are better than a Packard, Hunka Tin.

SEVENTY YEARS OLD BUT WANTS TO GO "OVER THERE"

WASHINGTON, November 24.—A seventy-year-old volunteer today is hoping for active service.

Henry E. Elliott, of Long Beach, Cal., is the would-be recruit, and he has offered his services to Secretary Baker in any capacity.

Elliott knows what war means. He served through the civil war in a regiment of Indiana volunteers, was wounded at Chickamauga and was held eight months in a Confederate prison.

"I am anxious to go to the front," Elliott wrote Secretary Baker. "I am in perfect health and my father is a very active man at 96 years of age. I can start on the first train and pass any examination here or there."

Elliott is an expert on bridge construction and thinks he may be of service in that capacity.

T. M. Barrett, of West Third street, attended an entertainment at Patriotic hall, in Los Angeles, Friday evening.

Mr. Blake Franklin with his two sons, Donald and John Blake left early this morning for a day of trout fishing at Big Tujunga.

Mrs. L. N. Hagood entertained for luncheon and the day on Friday at her home, 1454 Salem street, Mrs. George Blazley and Miss Neal, who is the press reporter for the Ebell club of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Everitt and their two daughters, of Oceanside, were guests for the day on Friday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin, 200 South Central avenue. Mrs. Mable Franklin Ocker was persuaded to return with them for a greatly needed week's rest.

Mrs. Emelie Ketterling has rented her house at 1304 West Colorado street, furnished for the winter and leaves today for Cincinnati, where she expects to make an extended visit. She plans also to be in Cleveland for some time during the winter and will probably not be back in Glendale for several months.

The annual praise meeting of the missionary society of the Tropico Presbyterian church was held on Thursday at the church. There was an all day meeting with an especially good luncheon served at noon, followed in the afternoon by a program with Mrs. David Thomas, who is foreign secretary for the Los Angeles Presbyterian Society, as the speaker of the day.

Miss Eula Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Stevenson, 1452 Pioneer drive, entertained the girls of her Sunday School class in the Christian church at her home on Friday evening. The young ladies enjoyed themselves immensely with games and a general good time. The hostess served especially delicious refreshments including homemade cake and chocolate as well as other dainties.

In the jewelry store window of Mr. J. H. Mellish, at 324 Brand boulevard, there is an interesting ring displayed which has come directly from the front in France. It is the property of Mrs. Pearl S. Keller and was sent her by Paul Brattain, Co. F, 18th Engineers, American Expeditionary Force in France. These rings are made by the soldiers in the trenches and are sold for the relief of France's wounded.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey of Beaumont, who spent the winter in Glendale last year, are back again, having arrived last Saturday and now being located at 308 Belmont street. They are the owners of a pear orchard at Beaumont and report a good crop and a good price for the season's output. They expect to put in 200 more trees this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey expect to be in Glendale for several months.

The war is not only bringing out the best there is in the men but is proving what women can do, also. Mrs. B. E. Savery, of Corona, a sister of Mr. T. P. Drinkwater, of 1106 Lomita, is the wife of a civil war veteran and she understands the importance of an efficient Red Cross. In six weeks she has made 95 hospital shirts and has knit five sweaters. This is indeed a commendable record for one on the "sunset" side of life.

Mr. Franklin Moore, of the People's Store, is in receipt of a letter telling of his nephew, Earl Redeker, who is stationed at Lorida, Texas. He says that he is much in love with the life of a soldier boy as he finds it in the camps and can testify to Uncle Sam's excellent care by the fact that, while he weighed only 127 pounds when he enlisted he has already reached the 145 lb. mark on the scales. He likes camp living and says he is "as happy as a lark."

Dr. and Mrs. Whytock of 111 North Jackson street, whose son, Norman, enlisted some time ago in the 7th New York Infantry, have just received word that their eldest son, Roslyn Duff Whytock, of New York, has received a commission as Captain in the Signal Corps and is at present stationed at the War College at Washington, D. C. He was formerly a captain in the National Guard, and has just recently returned from Europe where he has been correspondent for the New York World.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Brice, of 142 South Kenwood, entertained with a dinner on Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. Militan, of Spokane, Wash. The house and table were tastefully decorated with beautiful chrysanthemums. After the delicious dinner, the evening was very pleasantly spent, music being the chief diversion, special numbers affording great pleasure being those given by Mr. McGillis, who played his harp and Mr. Mason who rendered several beautiful violin solos. Those present besides the host and hostess and the young people of the family were: Mr. and Mrs. McGillis, Mr. Militan, Miss Waunita Emery, Mr. Arthur Lindley and Mr. Mason.

The editor of the Evening News, with W. B. Kirk as his guest, left by auto at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the Orange County Country Club, at which place the semi-annual meeting of the Southern California Associated Dailies is in session. At South Pasadena they will be joined by Editor Wickhizer, of the Record and at Monrovia they will be joined by Editor Barry of the Monrovia Daily News.

Mrs. S. M. Collum, of 1543 West Colorado street, was hostess to three separate groups of guests for luncheon and the day on Friday, none being aware of the intended visit of the others and the hostess being the most surprised of all. Mrs. E. Stacy and Mr. Harry Piper, mother and brother of Mrs. Collum, from Alhambra came out to find that Mrs. Harry Ogilvy and little daughter, Elizabeth, also of Alhambra, had preceded them. Later Mrs. A. Packard and daughter, Virginia, of Boyle Heights, also arrived and all spent a delightfully pleasant day at the impromptu entertainment.

The music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. N. Hagood, 1453 Salem street. Schubert and Grieg were studied. Mrs. Calvin Whiting reading a paper on Grieg and Mrs. Greenwalt giving one on Schubert. Mrs. Edgar Pack opened the meeting with an account of the current events in the music world and Mrs. Vivian Webb played two numbers from the Peer Gynt suite by Grieg. Mrs. Roy Masters played one of the four Impromptus by Schubert. After the program the section adjourned to meet again on Thursday December 13th instead of on Friday which would have been the regular time.

PLANS MATURING FOR BIG BAZAAR

For some weeks there has been quite an undercurrent of activity among many of Glendale's enthusiastic Red Cross workers and it has been hinted several times that something "big" was in the wind. Under the efficient direction of Mrs. Geo. A. Whitaker, 315 N. Maryland avenue, (Glendale 1387W) a committee of ladies are at work as follows: Mrs. J. R. White, Mrs. Lillian Dow, Mrs. H. S. Duffield, Mrs. U. H. Boothby, Mrs. Nanno Woods, Mrs. Charles Peckham, Miss Griffith, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Fairchild, Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. Helen Campbell.

These ladies propose to hold a bazaar and entertainment with a chicken dinner at 6 o'clock for the benefit of the Glendale Red Cross. The Glendale lodge of Elks, always a patriotic order, have generously opened their club rooms and the profitable pleasure of displaying and selling the hundred and one or more articles now being made for this occasion, and will be interspersed with a variety of entertainment, which will serve both to enlighten the hearts as well as the pocketbooks of all comers.

This affair will be given on Friday, December 14. Several programs will be made up under the direction of the entertainment committee. There will be an afternoon tea with the dinner and entertainment at night, the time between these being given over to disposing of articles for sale.

Any member of the above committee will be delighted to learn of the willingness of any, old or young, to give or make some useful articles for this bazaar. Scores of suitable Christmas gifts will be displayed at very attractive prices as well as all kinds of dolls for the "kiddies." Give your gifts to the Red Cross, then watch your neighbors buy them for the double purpose of maintaining the old time Christmas spirit and helping the greatest humanitarian organization on earth.

Mrs. Whitaker will be pleased to meet the ladies who will assist in this somewhat pretentious undertaking.

WHICH FORM?

—Just as no two people in the world are exactly alike, the insurance needs of no two people are absolutely the same, so it requires knowledge of the business and of the needs of the insured to fit just the right policy to each case.

—Don't rush blindly into a proposition where you invest so much money during so long period.

The very best insurance plan, Is the one that's suited to each man, According to his needs;

No cut-and-dried amount or forms Will weather all the coming storms, When health or fortune bleads. If you'll confide to me your state—

Your income, prospects, all relate— Your family and your worth; Together we will figure out. The form that, without any doubt, Will be the best will be the best on earth.

BRITISH AMBULANCE SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the British Ambulance Society took place last Monday as usual. There was a large attendance and a special business session called. Mrs. Frank England, vice-president, was prevailed upon to accept the presidency, that office being vacant through Mrs. Walter's resignation. A letter was read from the Los Angeles headquarters, announcing the appointment of the Glendale president on the board of executives in Los Angeles.

The secretary Miss Ina Whitaker, acted as chairman for the meeting. Mrs. Reginald Whitaker as secretary, and much important business was transacted. Three members were appointed to act on the executive board, Mrs. F. Hornsey, Mrs. E. H. Pack and Mrs. Geo. Bannock. Miss Geraldine Mortimer was present and made a proposition to the society regarding the presentation of a play, by the British California Players. Her offer was accepted and will be acted upon in the near future. Various other business matters were discussed and the meeting adjourned at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Dan Campbell was hostess at the tea at "Ye Ginger Tavern" which was one of the most successful and enjoyable yet given. Mrs. Campbell was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Mainwaring, of Los Angeles, and Mr. Eska Wilson gave an interesting little talk and account of his work in the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Kearny and elsewhere. Among many well known people present were a number of Tuesday Afternoon Club members, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duffield, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sherer.

FOR HOME CHARITY

Glendale Commandery No. 53 will hold its annual Charity Ball in Masonic Temple, Brand boulevard, on Wednesday evening, November 28.

This is always one of the big events of the year, and as the proceeds will be spent in worthy cases in our own city, there should not be a single ticket left unsold in the hands of the committee. If you have not purchased yours yet, get busy and phone Crofton's Shoe Store or Mr. Rattray, Main 1448.

BIDS FOR PRINTING

Bids for printing 500 copies of the Annual Report of the Public Service, Public Welfare and Public Works department of the City of Glendale, will be received by the City Clerk in his office in the City Hall up to 7:30 o'clock p. m., Nov. 30th next. Work to be similar to the Report of 1916, copies of which can be obtained of the City Clerk at his office or will be mailed on request. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

J. C. SHERER,
 City Clerk.

ATTENTION—IMPORTANT

When the last session of Congress adjourned it was with the agreement that one of the first pieces of business to be acted upon by the House of Representatives in December should be the resolution for submission to the state legislatures of a Federal prohibition amendment. The liquor interests are not forgetful of this, and are zealously preparing for it and demanding "that Congressmen in Washington shall vote against Constitutional prohibition, claiming that to pass it is worse than Russian despotism." Eternal vigilance is the price of prohibition, as of liberty, and all friends of the cause of prohibition should be awake to the needs of the hour. The enemy says to their aides and abettors, act now, do not delay, this is urgent, our enemies work night and day." Here we find our challenge. We should communicate with our Congressmen, before they leave for Washington if possible, and bring to them the impact of united influence of the best, the loftiest and most patriotic sentiment of our state on this all-important question. November 25 is set for a day of prayer for National Prohibition, and all pastors are urged to preach and pray on that day for the success of the Federal amendment; also that at each meeting some resolution be adopted in its favor. A suggested resolution is given as follows:

Resolved, That we are in hearty favor of National Constitutional Prohibition and will do all within our power to secure favorable action by the United States Congress on the joint resolution for a referendum to the states of the amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the manufacture, sale, transportation and importation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the United States, and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof.

Adopted by _____ representing _____ 191_____ signature of president at county _____ City _____ state.

All organizations and public meetings are urgently requested to secure the adoption of the above resolution. When signed kindly send to Mrs. R. J. Smart, 336 Olive street, Glendale.

That we may more thoroughly acquaint the Ladies of "Greater Glendale" and vicinity with the excellent Quality of "WILLIAMS-WEAR" as compared with the usual factory output, we will for one week beginning today, sell all garments at a REDUCTION of ¼ THE REGULAR PRICE. "WILLIAMS DRY GOODS STORE."

At the San Francisco recruiting office three pairs of twins enlisted in the army one day recently.

RAISE YOUR VOICE IN PROTEST!

Let's have two phone systems rather than to lose our right to talk to Los Angeles without extra charge. The toll system would gouge our people thousands of dollars annually. If Glendale was not already a very promising and profitable branch of the "Sunset" business, there would be no three story building erected here. There is no reason for an extra gouge. The company is making a fine profit out of Glendale without toll charges to Los Angeles.

LA CRESCENTA

Mr. S. S. Thomas has as his guest his mother, Mrs. W. S. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Talmage are spending this month in Pasadena.

The Governing Body of the local Red Cross chapter held a meeting on Thursday to elect a new treasurer, devise ways and means to carry on the work and for the general good of the cause. These classes are turning out a splendid amount of work and there is a call for all we have and more. Come out and give a day—Tuesdays and Thursdays—to the boys. Those in France have seen action and the reports that come to us tell of a dreadful lack of surgical dressings and hospital garments. Come, help to make that lack dwindle to a nothing and then have an over-plus. Mrs. Clafin and Mrs. Miller will give you lots to do. Remember, at the school house 10:30 to 4:30 Tuesday and Thursdays.

The next regular meeting of the Womens Club will be held Wednesday, December 12, at the home of Mrs. Nettleton. Election of officers for the ensuing year. Come out.

The knitting bee at the home of Mrs. S. S. Thomas meets every other Monday afternoon. Such an array of sweaters and wristlets and socks as they are turning out. If you knit or want to learn, come out and join the good work.

Mr. L. A. Potter's home on Mayfield is nearly complete. They will move in very soon now.

You who have boys at the camps, don't forget them for Thanksgiving day. Get your boxes off promptly.

Tom Bonetto has for his guest, his brother, John, of Denver, Colo.

At the Maryland dance last Saturday, La Crescenta was represented by Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bissell, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Coff and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baldrige.

The lot given to the Womens Club by the Glendale and Montrose Railway company, is situated on Los Angeles street just below Montrose avenue. The club had hoped to go to work at once and build, but after much deliberation it was decided that at this time, when all our energies and efforts are being put forth for the Red Cross and kindred beneficiaries that it would be unpatriotic to start on a campaign for the building fund. Our boys come first—we can wait for a club house.

SINGING EVANGELIST W. EARLE SMITH

The citizens of Glendale will be afforded a rare spiritual treat for the next two weeks at least, in the coming on next Sunday evening of the popular singing-evangelist, W. Earle Smith. A native of Missouri, Mr. Smith moved with his parents in infancy to the state of Nebraska, where he was educated, and has practically grown up with the life of the great middle west. After entering the ministry, he was pastor for several years in Northern California, as well as associate pastor with Dr. Harper in Pomona, where his work was so blessed as a soul-winner he went into the evangelistic field.

He was associated with several prominent evangelists in eastern and northern campaigns when he was called to the pastorate of the Central Baptist church of Columbus, Ohio. The church on a once took a new life and made rapid progress in enlarging and extending its activities. Strenuous efforts were made to retain him and it was with the keenest regret they finally yielded him to the large and growing South Park Baptist church of Los Angeles, where he has recently settled.

The Baptists of Glendale are to be congratulated upon having secured his services for the follow-up campaign of the Sunday meetings. Mr. Smith will speak each night except Saturday for the next two weeks at least. He is a noted singer as well as forceful speaker, and will frequently bring with him for the service the famous South Park male quartet whose singing has attracted much attention in that section of the city.

The Baptists extend a cordial invitation to the pastors and members of all the other churches, not only to attend, but take part in the meetings, with the assurance that the wishes of all converts will be respected. It is sincerely hoped that this added effort will do much to make permanent the results of the Sunday campaign and prove a great spiritual blessing to the community.

HOGS MORE VALUABLE THAN SHELLS IN WAR

By GEORGE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, November 24.—Next to human beings, the great American hog is this country's most important living factor in winning the war, Food Administrator Hoover declared today.

"Every hog," said Hoover, in a personally prepared and signed statement, "is of greater value to the winning of this war than a shell. And every pound of fat is as sure of service as every bullet."

Advocating the immediate and enormous increase of hog herds by the American farmer, and strongly urging that every owner of a yard, either rural or urban become a "keep-a-pig patriot," Hoover said:

"Pork products have an influence in this present world situation wider than one would ordinarily attribute to them."

"We are slaughtering, consuming at home and exporting more pork products than we are producing. We have increased our pork consumption despite high prices."

"The human body must have a certain amount of fat daily. Either animal, vegetable or dairy. We can make an increase in pork fats more rapidly than in vegetable or dairy fats. We must concentrate on an increased production of hogs if we are to answer the world's craving for fats. We can do this, this year."

"In addition to exports and normal domestic consumption, we have this year about one billion bushels of feed more than last. That is a 25 per cent increase. We have no corresponding number of animals to feed it to, unless we begin to increase them at once."

"If farmers are to find markets for feed, it must be through an increase in animals. Let that increase be hogs. It is to every farmer's vital advantage to do so."

"We need a 'keep-a-pig' movement in this country. If every suburbanite took one and fed it on the house garbage he would increase our fat supply and leave our feed surplus for the increase in other animals."

"A properly cared for pig is no more insanitary than a dog. In Germany, 4,000,000 hogs are supported in this manner. The national welfare would be warrant ample for the necessary changes in our village and urban ordinances to permit this."

That we may more thoroughly acquaint the Ladies of "Greater Glendale" and vicinity with the excellent Quality of "WILLIAMS-WEAR" as compared with the usual factory output, we will for one week beginning today, sell all garments at a REDUCTION of 1/4 THE REGULAR PRICE. "WILLIAMS DRY GOODS STORE."

EXPERIENCES OF AN AMBULANCE DRIVER

Two more letters from Jo Loomis, the famous young track athlete, who was sent to the front by the Chicago Athletic association as driver of an ambulance donated by that organization, appear below. Mr. Loomis is a nephew of Mrs. H. R. Boyer, of 212 South Orange street.

"At the Front, Aug. 15.
"My Dear Father:
"I have some good news for you. We leave this awful post tomorrow. I don't know where we go, but we will be 'en repose' for some time. I spent 18 days out of 28 on duty."

"Here is my schedule for the last four weeks: 'Twenty-four hours' work, 24 hours' rest, 72 hours' work, 24 hours' rest, 48 hours' work, 24 hours' rest. See how it is? The work means driving all the time, with no sleep. Just going from the post to the hospital and back again, always under shell fire."

"Several times I thought I was gone for good. You cannot imagine a shell striking five or six feet back of you, and having the pieces just miss you. That happened to me several times, and each time wrecked the back of my car. We live outdoors most of the time, and our health is good. It rains a great deal, and we are soaking wet most of the time, but no one takes cold."

"Many are the nights I've had rats gnaw the laces off my shoes while I was asleep. No kidding, one night I was awakened by a rat trying to get into my pocket after chocolate."

"All the boys in the section play bridge and Jack Patten and I have trimmed most of the others."

"Send me lots of news and tobacco. Will be with you at Christmas time. Best love to all."

"JOE."

Working Under Fire

"We have started the hardest work any ambulance section ever experienced. Our new location of barracks for our section is seven miles back of the trenches. There is a certain post or dressing station where we perform our work which is just a quarter of a mile behind the French trenches. This post is a little dugout, to which the wounded are brought from the trenches and dressed and sent back to a base hospital about three miles back."

"To reach this hut we have to circle a turn in the road which is in plain sight of the German trenches and about a half mile away. As we round this bend we can see both trenches and can watch the firing."

"It is by far the worst ambulance post on the entire front. The shells burst all around us on each trip we make. The Germans, so far, have not fired purposely on the ambulances, but the shells sometimes hit very close."

Drive Under Shells

"They shell the road all the time until an ambulance appears, and maybe they let up to let us by, but it hardly seems so to me. You see, the French batteries are located back of us and shoot over our heads. The Germans keep trying to hit the batteries, and consequently we drive between, or rather under, both German and French shells."

"We are stationed for duty for twenty-four hours at a time, four machines being there at once. Then we get a lay-off for twenty-four hours and go back the next day and night. The night driving is very dangerous, as the Germans cannot see the ambulances and shell the road all night long to prevent, if possible, the French from bringing up ammunition and food, etc., in the trucks. But the French keep right at it and drive their trucks as close as possible."

"We simply have to wait at our post until a let-up of shells comes and then go ahead. That is when we happen to have sitting cases of wounded and the departure from the post to the hospital is not immediately necessary."

"If we have serious cases, we have to go right out into the firing and take a chance and most of our night driving is serious."

"Every once in a while the men die in the ambulances. We cannot use lights on the roads and they are awful, as the shell holes are so plentiful we cannot go over ten miles an hour. We can't use a horn, as the Germans would hear it. You can see how close they are."

Start Curtain Fire

"Yesterday afternoon while I was up there, the French started a curtain of fire which lasted three hours and each time we started to leave the post with wounded the Germans shelled the road ahead of us. We only made that one trip that afternoon. We were ready to go at 5 o'clock and didn't get away until 7. We had our wounded in the car three different times and each time we cranked up our engines—bang—came the Germans' 210 shells.

"They struck within fifty yards of the hut—each one of them. We got back into the hut each time before they struck."

"You know—you can hear them coming very plainly. They whistle and if the whistle gets louder and louder as it comes then it is time to run. I'm getting pretty good at telling whether or not they are coming over our heads or coming right at us."

"Each time of the three that we were ready to start the major in command refused to let us go. So we waited until the rain of fire was over. It's a hard game to play and certainly makes your blood boil."

Grossome Work

"No one in America can realize how tremendous and awful it is. I have seen them bring in men with no heads at all and also men in bags—that have been blown to pieces."

"Then we see the suffering and Lord it has got to be stopped soon."

"The trench work is awful and especially that of the engineers. Now I don't want to upset you about Jack—but I want him by all means to come back here with me in this service—that is if he does not get his commission."

"For heaven's sake, send me some cigarettes, also some tobacco and zig-zag papers. Send me some jam and candy. We cannot get sweets here, and send some Victrola records to keep up the spirit of '76."
